

Nasa plans to grow vegetables on MoonFreshPlazaNasa is planning to grow plants and vegetables – such as turnip and basil – on the Moon, by 2015, to understand whether humans can live and work on the Earth's natural satellite. The US space agency will deposit plants, on-board a commercial lunar ...y más »

Leer más: Plaza Satellite: Google Noticias